White Wine

- Tuckerbox Semillion Sauvignon Blanc (House White) glass 8 28
Shiny gold with green hues, the bouquet is quite complex showing honeyed tropical fruits all highlighted with the summery citrus aromas of fresh varietal Semillon. The mellow palate is structured while displaying lively, zesty fruit.
- Twelve Signs Pinot Grigio (NSW) glass 9 29
Bursting with delightful and appealing lemon peel and soft pears. Taut and linear, the wine is framed by bright acidity and has a long finish.
- Two Rivers Wildfire Unwooded Chardonnay (NSW) glass 10 38
Wine shows aromas of fresh peach with a subtle lemon citrus lift. The palate is beautifully balanced with good acid and crisp stone fruit flavors.
- Dunsborough Hills Verdelho – Witchcliffe (WA) 49
Western Australian Verdelho is renowned for its clean, crisp, fruit salad flavours; fruit driven, full flavoured yet delicate and dry.
- d’Arenberg Broken Fishplate Sauvignon Blanc (SA) 62
The nose is lifted and expressive with tropical fruits dominating. Guava and passion fruit spring to mind. Along with the fruit there are underlying aromatic herb botanicals. On the palate the tropical fruits are joined by cumquat and candied limes and the crisp greenness is reminiscent of crunchy snow peas.
- Scarborough Chardonnay – Pokolbin (NSW) 65
Led by peach and lemon and embellished by intense leesy barrel characters that lend complexity. This is much more poised on the palate, it is leaner in fruit profile but still captivates with richness, showing white peach and spicy oak as well as a core of citrus that drives through the finish. Persistent and long, as well as offering keen texture
- Terra Felix Chardonnay – Mornington Peninsula (Vic) 69
Led by a powerful fruit flavor this chardonnay was hand-picked and whole bunch pressed for slow and gentle juice extraction. Barrel-fermented in 100% French oak for 11 months well integrated with subtle notes of grilled almonds. Hints of grapefruit and nectarine complex and rich whilst retaining its freshness

Imported & Italian White Wine

Scorpius Sauvignon Blanc – Marlborough (NZ) glass 11 45

A combination of modern and traditional winemaking techniques has produced a wine with excellent fruit concentration, crisp acidity and generous texture. Ripe tropical and stonefruit aromas harmonise with capsicum and gooseberry characters. A creamy mouth feel adds backbone to a wine which delivers a long zesty finish.

Gianni Masciarelli Trebiano 49

A lovely clear wine with a subtle straw yellow hue with greenish reflections. It has an intense bouquet with refined perfume. On the palate it flows elegant apple and apricot flavours and pairs well with game poultry and seafood.

Villa Trasqua Vermentino, Tuscany glass 14 53

A wine with a refreshing acidity and attractive aromas of peach, lemon peel, dried herbs, and a whiff of saline minerality. Dry to medium on the palate with a balanced complexity.

Lamberti Pinot Grigio – Venezia (Italy) 56

Pale yellow colour; distinctive bouquet of wild flowers, with hints of honey and bananas; dry, but not excessively so, full flavour, soft but fresh and lively, with a pleasing, lingering aftertaste of ripe pears.

Soave Veneto (Italy) 65

This Soave grape is a very good example of Soave with intense straw yellow colours a fresh, velvety, tasty flavour with pleasant almond note in the finish.

Lama Di Pietra Chardonnay (Italy) 65

This Chardonnay is cultivated on the northern hills of Bari where the exposure and terroir permits this variety's aromatic content and intensity of fragrances to find their best expressions. The deep fertile soil, of a calcareous and rock nature, forges a balanced wine with a full, fresh flavour.

Livon Pinot Grigio (Italy) 76

Bright pale straw yellow coloured with slight ash grey reflections. It has a fragrant bouquet with hints of vanilla and lime flowers. On the palate it remains strong with a lingering fresh finish.

Marco Bonfante Gavi Di Gavi (Italy) 92

Dry white with a pleasant, acidulous freshness. This wine, produced on the Ca del Rosso Estate in Monterotondo di Gavi, reveals itself immediately to be a classy white wine. Its fruity aromas and good structure, obtained thanks to the vineyard's particular soil composition, make this a wine that is highly recommended with fish.

Red Wine
